

Image not found or type unknown

What are the requirements for using the Findbuch?

Due to data protection laws, registration is necessary in order to undertake research in the personal data holdings of the Findbuch. However it is also possible to search the data base without registration but solely information regarding the amount of hits is given. In order to access the detailed information, you will have to register and accept the privacy policy. After that you have unrestricted use of the features offered by the Findbuch, such as saving and printing search results. Searching in address directories and official handbooks is allowed without registration.